Any New Commentary Would Be Unfair to McLarty's Appeal

Editor The Star: We are glad you are back home and feeling well. We have missed your editorials on the issues of the day.

As you know, State Representative Mack McLarty sent out a form letter and questionaire to the voters to let him know how they feel about different issues which he will have to vote on very soon.

I thought this was very thoughtful of him, giving us a good chance to let our wishes be known to our state government. Also, it was thoughtful of you to print a copy of the questionnaire (Star of Jan. 7).

Let me state frankly that I don't always agree with your point of view, but you do raise a lot of good points that are very important in making decisions about how to vote on different issues. I do respect and appreciate your views.

I—and I think many others—would appreciate it if you would comment on the several issues in Rep. Mack McLarty's questionnaire.

L.L. Rowland

Jan. 9, 1971
522 Johnson St.
City

I do appreciate Mr. Rowland's vote of confidence in your editor, but you should realize that Representative McLarty has called for the true and untampered opinion of our citizens—and any last-minute point-by-point declaration from the editor would be an unpardonable intrusion between the representative and his constituents.

Mr. McLarty has, I understand, already received more than 1,000 replies—and the poll is still in process.

I can, however, with justice, repeat what this newspaper has said for many years about some of the issues stated in the questionnaire. The people have known our position on certain issues for a long time, and therefore repeating these old comments today is not an infringement upon the representative's freedom to communicate directly with his constituents. Here is what The Star has said for many years:

We believe in improving existing state services and upgrading the salaries of those manning such services—but we are opposed to diluting present services and threatening new or higher taxes by experimenting with new programs. Higher taxes should be justified only to meet the living costs raised by inflation—not to finance an expansion of state government.

The Star is opposed to raising the state sales tax from present 3 per cent to 4 per cent.

It is opposed to removing the present exemption of services (including manufacturing). The politicians too frequently call these exemption "loop-holes"—but removal of the "loop-holes" would simply mean a widening of the sales tax base and raising the cost of living for all citizens.

The sales tax is a flat one, charging the poor at the same rate as the middle-classes and the rich. But the income tax is levied according to a citizen's ability to pay.

Therefore, if the state actually has to have more money the burden should be applied by increasing the state income tax—leaving the sales tax alone.

These particular positions have been stated repeatedly over the years, so their repitition now is fair comment.

Woman Killed in Accident

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — Nona Black, 23, of Memphis was killed Tuesday in a two-car collision on Arkansas 79 about seven miles southwest of here.

State Police said the accident occurred when a car driven by Linda Diana Atkinson, 18, of Chatfield (Crittenden County) collided headon with a car driven by Miss Black. Authorities said Miss Atkinson was hospitalized at Memphis.

Man Drowns Tuesday in Beard's Lake

Ollice Lee Rosenbaum, 60, a resident of Fulton Rt. 1, drowned Tuesday in Beard's Lake near Saratoga. He was fishing alone and apparently fell out of his boat. The body was found shortly after midnight by a group of searchers led by Hempstead County Sheriff Henry Sinyard. The incident occurred some 150 feet below the lower landing on the lake just below Millwood Dam.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emma Rosenbaum; a son, Oliver Rosenbaum of Wilmington, Calif.; three daughters, Mrs. Donald Embry of Hope, Mrs. Olin Crowell of Texarkana and Mrs. Billy Wilson of California; five brothers, Rufus, Newton, Chester and Charles Rosenbaum, all of Fulton Rt. 1 and Claud Rosenbaum of Hope; three sisters, Mrs. Oliver Moss of Hope, Mrs. Maud Edwards of Fulton and Mrs. Violet Westrope of Oklahoma City.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at Herndon Funeral Chapel by the Rev. Connie Robins. Burial will be in Westmoreland Cemetery by Herndon Funeral Home.

Big Drive Is Launched to Open Road

SAIGON (AP) — Spearheaded by 140 armored cars, more than 13,000 South Vietnamese and Cambodian troops launched a drive from north and south today to reopen Phnom Penh's lifeline to the sea, South Vietnamese headquarters announced.

Only minor contact was reported in the initial stages of the operation aimed at clearing Cambodia's Highway 4, which runs from the capital 115 miles southwest to the nation's only deepwater port, Kompong Som.

The highway has been cut for nearly two months by North Vietnamese troops who control two passes through the Elephant Mountains, Pich Nil, 60 miles southwest of Phnom Penh, and Stung Chhay, 25 miles farther south.

Spokesmen said one force was moving south from the direction of Phnom Penh, while another was pushing north from Kompong Som.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said North Vietnamese gunners early today slammed 24 mortar rounds into the camp of a marine battalion northeast of Pich Nil and wounded two marines.

A Cambodian spokesman reported that Cambodian and North Vietnamese troops clashed in Trapeang Kea, and one Cambodian was wounded. The Cambodian Command claimed that the North Vietnamese dragged away several dead and wounded.

Will Lecture in Hope

JOHN E. NEELY

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — "This Atomic World," a lecture-demonstration program sponsored by the University of Arkansas and the United States Atomic Energy Commission on nuclear energy and its applications, will be presented at Hope High School on Monday, January 18th.

John E. Neely of Little Rock will present the program, explaining in easily understood terms the structure of atoms and the operation of nuclear reactors, as well as such concepts as radiation, fission, and fusion.

Neely, a 1970 graduate of the University of Arkansas, completed an extensive training course at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., facilities of the Atomic Energy Commission. His appearance is made possible through a generous grant by the Oklahoma Gas and Electric Company, Arkansas-Missouri Power Company, Arkansas Power and Light Company and the Southwestern Electric Power Company.

Especially designed electronic equipment is used during the 40-minute program to demonstrate the sources of radiation, how nuclear energy is harnessed to furnish electric power for cities, and the use of radioisotopes to aid in the diagnosis and treatment of diseases and to learn more about life processes. Immediately following his assembly lecture, Neely will visit science classes to lecture more specifically on such topics as atomic structure, radioactivity, radiation biology, and careers in nuclear science.

The program is presented in cooperation with Oak Ridge Associated Universities, a non profit educational and research corporation of 41 Southern colleges and universities which operates a nationwide educational program for the Atomic Energy Commission

In Inaugural Address Bumpers Indicates He May Ask Tax Increases

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers indicated more strongly in his inaugural address Tuesday night that he might ask the General Assembly for more taxes to finance the program he proposes.

Bumpers said that to finance some of the programs would require "still another look at our projected revenues and the probability of additional revenues."

He said he hoped to appear before the legislature in about two weeks to present "precise, concrete proposals on the revenues I believe will be necessary and the sources I believe best from which to derive them."

In his address, delivered from the steps of the state Capitol, Bumpers dedicated his administration to "concern, compassion and reality."

"Our mandate is to correct or eliminate those things which are wrong and build on those things which are right," he said. "I invite you to join me in a rededication, in a covenant for the good of our state."

He said that despite his general election victory over Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, who sought a third term as the state's first Republican governor since Reconstruction, he had "no feelings of triumph — only of dedication."

"We must resolve that the exhilaration of the moment does not become the disappointment of the future," Bumpers said. "We must not waste the new awakening of our people that has taken place during the last few months.

"That new awareness makes it all the more important that this administration be responsive to the people so their voices will be heard and their needs met."

A crowd estimated at 2,000 or more turned out on a foggy night to hear the speech, the first delivered outdoors in many years. The address also was televised.

Among those on the platform with the new governor were Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., the state's other constitutional officers, the state Supreme Court justices, members of the legislature and Bumpers' wife and three children.

Don't Ask Others for Favors, Most Have Troubles of Their Own

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "What can I do for you?"

How often we hear these words from people we meet or talk to over the telephone. They have become a trite and unctuous phrase in our trite and unctuous times—a double-talk expression which, translated literally, too often means "Please don't ask me to do anything for you. I've got troubles enough of my own."

But what if, once in your lifetime, a mighty genie able to do anything whispered in your ear, "What can I do for you?" And meant it.

The possibility is so startling one would hardly know where to begin. But I think I'd at least ask him for—

A molehill I couldn't turn into a mountain.

Threatens to Bring in Foreign Steel

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) President Nixon, trying to stave off a new round of steel price increases, is threatening domestic producers with increased low-cost foreign competition if they adopt what he considers to be enormous price hikes.

Nixon acted Tuesday after Bethlehem Steel, the nation's second largest producer, announced plans for increases of 11 to 13 per cent by March 1 on items accounting for one-sixth of the industry's total output.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, in announcing Nixon's threat, said the President wanted other steel companies to be aware of the possibility of increased imports from Japan and Western Europe as they consider whether to follow Beth-

U.S. Economic News Favorable, Nixon to Counter Steel Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has rolled out a rare tripleheader of favorable news for the consumer—steady wholesale prices, lower mortgage interest rates and a threat by President Nixon to intervene in a big steel price increase.

Moving more actively in the price field, Nixon threatened Tuesday to counter a price boost by Bethlehem Steel by inviting expanded imports of lower-cost steel from Japan and Western Europe.

As Nixon did so, the Labor Department reported wholesale prices in December, seasonally adjusted, remained unchanged. Otherwise, the index went up by one-tenth of one per cent.

For all of 1970, labor officials said, wholesale prices of food and industrial raw materials climbed by 2.3 per cent, the smallest rise in 2½ years. The index usually foreshadows future movements in the consumer price index.

Secretary of Housing George Romney also announced the maximum allowable interest rate on new mortgage loans backed by the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration was being cut to 7½ per cent.

It was the second cut in the ceiling since Dec. 1, when the rate fell from a record 8½ to 8 per cent. Romney said he made the latest change because more money is available to lend to homebuyers and interest rates generally continue to drop.

He said the new rate should "unfreeze some of the demand for homes from prospective buyers who have been waiting for a return of lower interest rates."

Cold Front Expected to Move in

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cold front is expected to move into Arkansas this evening, producing colder temperatures tonight and Thursday morning.

As the front approaches a chance of thunderstorms will exist mainly over the southern portions of the state where the air is the warmest.

Clouds and fog covered the state this morning with some dense fog in the northern sections. Harrison and Jonesboro reported visibility at one-eighth of a mile.

High temperatures Tuesday ranged from 38 at Fort Smith to 70 at Pine Bluff.

Highs today were forecast in the 40s northwest to mid 60s southeast. Lows tonight should be in the low 30s northwest to low 40s southeast. Highs Thursday are predicted in the 40s and low 50s.

Harriman Is Convinced Russia Wants End to War in Indochina

MOSCOW (AP) — W. Averell Harriman came out of a Kremlin meeting today saying he is still convinced the Russians want the Indochinese war stopped. He also revealed they helped in arranging the 1968 agreement to halt U.S. air attacks on North Vietnam.

Harriman was President Lyndon B. Johnson's chief negotiator at the Paris peace talks. He is now retired and is in Moscow on a private visit. He made his remarks at a news conference after a meeting with Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Harriman also said the Russians had helped settle the dispute over the conference table at the talks.

"They will help us if the two sides (in Vietnam) are moving in the direction of a general agreement," he added.

"The Russians would like to see the war ended. They said our relations would improve if it did and they are probably right."

Sam Strong Named Mayor by Directors

The four recently elected city directors were sworn into office by Municipal Judge John Wilson at the meeting of the City Board of Directors Tuesday night.

Bob Jackson and Melvin Thrash are new members on the city board and Frank Douglas and Leonard Ellis were re-elected for an additional term of 4 years.

Following the induction of the newly elected board members, Doctor Sam Strong was elected Mayor and Melvin Thrash was elected to serve as assistant mayor for the coming two years.

The Board reviewed a crime report from the Hope Police Department for the year 1970. The crime report, which is prepared to conform to national crime statistics, showed an increase in arrests over the previous year for almost every category of law violations. A total of 1,977 arrests were made, which included 1,674 adults and 303 minors. These totals include all violations except parking tickets. There were 971 arrests for violations other than traffic. The greatest increase in violations was for driving while intoxicated. There were 239 arrests for DWI during 1970,

Missing F11 Search Continues

HUNTSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The search for a missing FB111A warplane believed to have crashed in the rugged Ozark National Forest was to continue today.

A search party set out on foot late Tuesday afternoon in the fog-shrouded Ozark Mountains in Northwest Arkansas in search of the airplane, but the group was called back late Tuesday night when visibility dropped to near zero and temperatures dipped below freezing.

The search was shifted to Arkansas after reconnaissance photographs indicated the craft may have crashed about 20 miles south of Huntsville and about five miles into the mountains.

Beef Bull Performace Test Planned

Friday, January 15 from 10:00 a.m. to 12:30 noon at the Bull Barn on the Spencer Tract the Southwest Branch Experiment Station will be host to sixteen producers with bulls on test and guests interested in Beef Cattle Production according to Cecil M. Bittle, Assistant Director in Charge.

There will be a discussion on each of the 38 bulls that finished the test giving the good and not so good points on each bull. This will give the visitors an opportunity to see what the professional people use as a guide in evaluating a bull for breeding purposes.

The results of the test will be presented along with the cost and comparison with previous tests.

Many of the bulls will be for sale by private treaty. Each producer will be introduced and given an opportunity to tell the group about his cattle including such things as type of cattle, whether or not any of his bulls are for sale, bulls at home for sale and any other pertinent information for the prospective buyers.

Nominations will be taken for next years test. It is urged that those interested in testing nominate their bulls at this time especially since the Station has only forty stalls and last year there were over seventy-five requests for testing.

Arab Nations Lash Western Oil Companies

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Representatives of an organization of 10 major oil nations accused a delegation from Western oil companies today of refusing to negotiate on price increases and left Tehran. Collapse of the talks threatens 85 per cent of the non-Communist world's oil production.

Finance Minister Hamshid Amuzegar of Iran, speaking for the Organization for Petroleum Exporting Countries, said the OPEC will decide on a course of action at a meeting next Tuesday.

He said the four-man oil industry delegation told him and the oil ministers of Saudi Arabia and Iraq Tuesday night that it was powerless to negotiate on price and tax increases demanded by the OPEC nations. No date was set for further talks, Amuzegar said.

Asked if the organization planned sanctions against the companies unless they agree to further talks, Amuzegar said the oil nations will take "simultaneous action" if delegates at the meeting next week feel it necessary.

The organization includes Iran, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Qatar, Abu Dhabi, Libya, Algeria, Indonesia and Venezuela. They produce 85 per cent of the non-Communist world's oil.

Jews to Keep Up Russian Harassment

NEW YORK (AP) — The head of the militant Jewish Defense League says jail threats will not deter his followers from a campaign of harassing Russian representatives here to protest the conditions of Soviet Jews.

In the latest incidents, six young JDL members trailed three persons as they left the Soviet mission to the United Nations Tuesday and shouted insults at them. They followed one man into a soda fountain and two women into a supermarket. The shouting stopped when police intervened.

Hours earlier, Rabbi Meir Kahane, founder and leader of the league, was arrested on a Criminal Court bench warrant for failure to appear for a hearing on riot charges stemming from a Dec. 27 anti-Soviet demonstration. He was freed in $3,000 bail.

Returning to the league headquarters, Kahane told his followers that his arrest "was just the start of a campaign to stop us."

But he added: "If they think we are the kind of people who will be scared off by jail threats, then they don't know the psyche of the modern, militant Jew."

lehem's lead.

A Bethlehem spokesman said his company had no comment on the Nixon threat to consider raising voluntary quotas on the amount of steel exported to the United States by major foreign producers.

Soon after Bethlehem Steel's announcement, a small company, Lukens Steel Co. of Coatesville, Pa., announced it was boosting prices of carbon steel plates $17 a ton, effective March 1.

Bethlehem's increase of $16 to $17 a ton are on piling, structural shapes and carbon plates used in construction and shipbuilding.

Ziegler, in discussing steel prices, said:

"The increase by Bethlehem Steel relate to products of particular importance to construction. The President feels that the unusually large increases in these important prices would have unfortunate cost-raising effects in the construction industry where costs have already been virtually out of control."

He said Nixon had ordered his Cabinet committee on economic policy to review the "enormous increases" and their probable impact and to report promptly on possible countermeasures the government might take.

Ziegler, in another move that clearly reflected presidential concern, went to unusual lengths Tuesday to deny a published report that a 1972 campaign organization is being set up on Nixon's behalf.

Referring to a Washington dispatch in Tuesday's editions of the New York Times, Ziegler said, "No 1972 campaign organization is being set up and any suggestion along that line is erroneous."

Alaska Oil Line Termed Necessary

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department reported today that a proposed 800-mile oil pipeline across Alaska would create unavoidable environmental damage but that it should be built because the nation needs the oil.

The environmental impact statement, required by law, said construction and operation in strict accordance with applicable laws and regulations and with the department's special stipulations "would reduce foreseeable environmental costs to acceptable levels."

The staff report, described by the department as a draft subject to change after public hearings next month, could not promise complete environmental safety for the pipeline, but only that it "on balance would create the fewest number of environmental problems of all alternate means considered."

"Development of the Petroleum reserves on the North Slope of Alaska is essential to the strength, growth and security of the United States," the report said.

Seven oil companies have banded together in proposing costruction of the $1 billion pipeline to carry hot oil, through a forzen area, from vast petroleum fields discovered two years ago in the Alaskan Arctic to an ice-free port at Valdez, on the state's southern coast. From there, the oil, to flow at some two million barrels a day, would be shipped by tanker to the U.S. West Coast.

The report admitted the construction and operation—and, in fact, the very presence—of the pipeline would create not only direct impact on wildlife, vegetation, and scenic values, but would alter the character of all Alaska north of the Yukon River by opening it for further development.

U.S. Moves to Cripple Tax Evasion Plan

By JEAN HELLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government is moving to cripple a major method of tax evasion this year by requiring, for the first time, that U.S. taxpayers disclose on their income tax returns any financial interests they own or control in foreign countries.

Officials hope that such disclosures will help close off the pipelines which illegally carry hundreds of millions of dollars each year out of the country and into secret foreign bank accounts, safely away from the jurisdiction of U.S. criminal and tax authorities.

This year's 1040 tax forms, currently cropping up in mail boxes from coast to coast, contain a new section required under a law signed last October by President Nixon.

Brazil to Fly Prisoners to Chile Asylum

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Seventy prisoners were expected to be flown to political asylum in Chile today as ransom for the kidnaped Swiss ambassador, Giovanni Bucher.

The prisoners, assembled from jails and prisons around the country, were locked in cells at a military airport near Rio, a few hundred yards from the Varig Airlines Boeing 707 waiting to fly them out of the country.

The government announced Monday that it would send the prisoners to Chile as soon as it received assurance from the kidnapers that they would release Bucher upon the prisoners' arrival in Santiago.

The kidnapers gave this assurance Tuesday in a note signed by the kidnaped ambassador. The note was found inside a newspaper at the U.S. Information Service library in Rio following a tip from an anonymous telephone caller.

Swiss Ambassador Max Feller, who came to Brazil to help negotiate for the release of Bucher, said he and Bucher should be on their way home by the end of this week.

Bucher, 57, was kidnaped Dec. 7 by terrorists who shot and killed his bodyguard. As ransom, the kidnapers demanded the release of convicts they considered political prisoners and other government concessions.

The government refused to make any concessions other than releasing prisoners, and set conditions on this.

Legislature to Convene at 1 p.m.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The House and Senate were to convene at 1 p.m. today and both were expected to get down to business following Tuesday's inauguration of Gov. Dale Bumpers.

Each approved bills Tuesday to pay their expenses, the Senate put off confirmation of new state appointees, and each chamber spent most of the day observing the departure of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller and the arrival of Bumpers.

The Senate received 30 new bills, bringing its total to 40, and the House received 12, bringing its total to 29, and several controversial measures were among them.

The House approved HB 1 to appropriate $499,910 for expenses of the chamber in the current legislative session, then sent the measure to the Senate.

Calendar of Events

Thursday, January 14

The Hope B & PW Club will meet Thursday, January 14 at 7 p.m. in the Diamond. The "Status of Women" committee, Hazel Prichard, Charlene Wiggins, Wanda Byrd and Sue Sparks, will be in charge of arrangements.

The Hope Ladies Golf Association will meet at the Hope Country Club on Thursday, January 14. Mrs. Henry Seamans will be hostess for a luncheon beginning at 12 noon.

VFW will have a meeting Thursday, Jan. 14 at 7:30 p.m.

Tuesday, January 19

Hempstead County Democratic Womens Club will meet Tuesday, January 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. W.C. Bruner, Jr. on Patmos Road. All members are urged to be present.

WSCS CIRCLE MEETS

"A certain amount of fantasy and imagination is needed in a Christian life, and when people lose their childhood belief in the wonders of life, it marks a turning point in their thinking." Thus, Mrs. Calvin Smith spoke to Circle 5, WSCS, in a meeting Monday night, January 11 in the home of Mrs. W.C. Bruner, Jr. The members all participated in the discussion of ways that imagination could be put to good use to help one another, and "hope for the future" seemed to be the keynote.

The meeting was opened with all singing "Help Somebody Today" with Mrs. Winfred Huckabee accompanying at the piano. After the program, a business meeting was held under the guidance of Circle Chairman Mary Anita Laseter. Mrs. Huckabee was named to the telephone committee, and arrangements were made to meet in the Laseter home in February.

Mrs. Bruner and Mrs. Bob Parham were co-hostesses for the meeting, and Mrs. Matt McCauley assisted in serving cookies, coffee and cold drinks to 10.

IRIS CLUB MEETS

The Hope Iris Club met Friday, January 8 at the home of Mrs. Ted Price in Oakhaven with 11 members present. Dr. Herbert Rogers was the guest speaker and gave a most interesting and informative talk on the topic, "Our Amazing Birds," showing color slides of each bird discussed.

Following the program, the president, Mrs. W.I. Stroud, conducted a brief business session which included the club collect, roll call, minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report.

Mrs. A.A. Albritton's unique arrangement featuring curves and using a bird accessory won first place. The hostesses, Mrs. Price, Mrs. Doyle Shields and Mrs. Bennett Wood, served coconut cake, coffee and nuts for refreshments.

ROSE GARDEN CLUB MEETS

Mrs. Harry Shiver had arrangements of Pink Perfection Camellias in her home on Friday, January 8 for a meetingof the Rose Garden Club. The president, Mrs. Houston Gunter, welcomed the return of a former member, Mrs. Morris Harwell. Place mats to sell were distributed among the members.

"Mini Gardens" was the prrogram which Mrs. H.O. Kyler presented. Tiny gardens such as terrariums were discussed. She showed pictures of the various kinds of mini gardens, and she had an example of a terrarium which she and Mrs. Shiver had made.

During the refreshment hour cookies and hot punch were served to 11 members and one guest, Mrs. S.A. Whitlow.

Circle No. Two Meets

The spacious home of Mrs. W. A. Burks was the meeting place of Circle No. Two of W.S.C.S. of United Methodist Church.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the leader, Mrs. Harry McLemore after which a brief business was transacted, pledges made and dues collected. One new member, Mrs. Joe Wilson, was welcomed.

Mrs. Cecil Weaver had the program. She gave a meditation on "When Trouble Comes" using scriptures from Job, Paul, and Psalms 91.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE PLAY

The Hope Duplicate Bridge Club met Monday, January 11 at the Diamond with 4 tables of players. Mrs. Syd McMath and Mrs. E.P. Young, Jr. took the top scoring honors. Mrs. Marie C. Hendrix and Mike Kelly tied with Mrs. R.D. Moore and Mrs. R.T. White for second.

Pill Popping Could Make Insomnia Worse

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — A Stanford University researcher says insomniacs who try to solve their problem by popping sleeping pills actually could be making it worse.

Sleeping pills can actually cut down on the amount of sleep and lead to an abnormal type of sleep that may be harmful over long periods, Dr. William C. Dement, director of Stanford's Sleep Disorders Clinic, said in an interview.

"People using a lot of sleeping pills end up sleeping badly," said Dement, who has studied sleep habits for 18 years.

He said pill-poppers develop a tolerance for more and more pills—usually barbiturates—which can bring on a drug abuse problem.

Also, he said, the pills interfere with normal sleep processes such as the brief dream period that occurs normally about every 90 minutes and is accompanied by rapid eye movements. Researchers refer to it as REM.

Dement said he has found in experiments with volunteers that interference with REM sleep can cause mental changes as well as sleep abnormalities.

"When suppressed, it comes back with tremendous force," he said. "The person has nightmares, is overly intense, displays excitability."

He cautioned, however, that the use of pills should not be stopped suddenly.

"Withdrawal never should be sudden, because nightmares, severe anxiety and even convulsions could result," Dement said.

"When the pill user is finally slowly withdrawn and adjusted, he usually sleeps better than before taking any pills," Dement said.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

TEEN "LANGUAGE" BAFFLES

Dear Helen:

My son gets letters from his girl friend, and on the outside is "SWALCAKWS." It sounds a little obscene to me. Please decipher if you can. — WORRIED

Dear Worried:

SWALCAKWS means "Sealed With a Lick 'Cause a Kiss Won't Stick." Okay? —H.

Dear Helen:

I'm divorced and have been going with this girl for four years. I want to marry her but her parents don't approve of divorced men and, though she is in her middle 20s, they have a big influence on her.

Last week she told me she went out with her boss, who is not only married but still living with his wife and six children, besides having been involved in several affairs. She claims she loves him, and stayed a weekend with him. Insists he'll get a divorce to marry her.

Helen, if her folks don't approve of a simple divorce, how can they approve of a man who has an affair before his divorce? Frankly, I don't think he'll ever leave his wife. Why should he, when he can have his cake and eat it too?

I got so mad when my girl (or is she?) told me, I felt like beating her up. But I still love her. Should I tell her parents so that they might all decide I'm — THE BETTER RISK?

Dear BR:

You won't win the girl by tattling to her parents—and you probably won't change her direction either.

Face it: You spent four years chasing the wrong woman—one who uses her family as her excuse for not making a decision. Take off the blinders and look for the RIGHT gal! —H.

Dear Helen:

I'm another who disagrees with your idea that it's better not to tell a mate EVERYTHING.

You said that a wife shouldn't feel she must tell her husband about her past (if the past is over and gone). Deception isn't "where it's at," Helen.

My wife and I love each other for who and what we are. We don't love "someone else" we might pretend to be. We don't wear masks.

To better understand and help each other, we have real communication with the real person, not an imposter—and we have a beautiful and uninhibited relationship.

One deception leads to another and, before you know it, your life is a lie. Don't condemn the truth! —FOR COMPLETE HONESTY

Dear FCH:

You and your wife have the kind of relationship that can survive "true confessions." This is rare, even today when the young accept far more than they condemn.

My point is: If the past is gone, why hassle it? The mate who insists on total replay is usually the one who can't face the music. —H.

BobcatsDoing Well Early in District

By BILL MOORE
Star Sportswriter

Early statistics in 4AA basketball show that the Hope Bobcats are doing very well in the western division.

Big John Dudley, the Bobcats 6'6" postman, is currently tied for the scoring lead with 28 points after his performance against Magnolia last Friday. In that game Dudley hit 13 field goals and two free throws.

Other games last week include a Fairview win over Arkadelphia, 56-42, and the Camden Panthers belting Malvern, 74-58, in district competition.

Here are some statistics now for the Bobcats' free throw, rebound, and recovery percentage, in the first 10 games. Steve Harris leads the free throw percentage with 10 of 12 for 83 per cent, followed by Parker Powell with 42 of 51 for 82 per cent, and Bill Rowland hitting 12 of 17 for 71 per cent.

Also Lynn Norton has sunk 42 of 67 for 63 per cent, David Briggs has 22 of 40 for 55 per cent, and Dudley popped in 15 of 35 for 43 per cent.

Leading rebounders in order are Dudley with 112, Norton grabbing 85, Powell getting 41, Harris pulling in 33, Briggs getting 32, and Rowland getting 31.

Powell leads in recoveries with 21, while Harris and Briggs both have 14 each. Also Dudley has seven and Norton has three.

One of the outstanding games of the season so far was defeating Magnolia in the first district game. In that game Hope shot a fabulous 61 per cent from the field and 68 per cent from the free throw line.

Tonight the Bobcats travel to Arkadelphia to take on the Bradley team in the Henderson tournament, while below is the first weeks standings of district play.

Team	Record	Pct.
Hope	1-0	1.000
Camden	1-0	1.000
Fairview	1-0	1.000
Arkadelphia	0-1	.000
Magnolia	0-1	.000

Porkers No Match for Texas Tech

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) —Greg Lowery scored 34 points and led Texas Tech to a 98-68 Southwest Conference basketball victory over the Arkansas Razorbacks Tuesday night.

Lowery, who had a 17-point average for the season, connected on 15 of 23 shots from the field, and a perfect four for four at the free throw line, but it was balanced scoring, tough defense and great rebounding that choked off the Razorbacks.

Arkansas grabbed its only lead on Vernon Murphy's eight-foot jumper early in the game but Tech took it right back and never trailed again. Tech led 50-39 at halftime.

Bobby Vint paced the Porkers with 21 points and Donnie Watts had 15.

Henderson Rolls Over Harding

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Henderson State College had four men in double figures as the Reddies rolled over Harding College 82-70 in AIC basketball action Tuesday night.

Don English and Danny Davis each had 22 points to pace the Reddies. Bill Chism scored 30 for Harding.

In other AIC action, Arkansas A&M defeated Arkansas College 70-63, Arkansas Tech downed Southern State 83-79, Arkansas AM&N defeated Hendrix 88-77, Ouachita rolled over College of the Ozarks 106-73 and State College of Arkansas defeated the University of Arkansas at Little Rock 87-73.

Tech's victory gave the Wonder Boys a 7-1 conference record and dropped Southern State to 8-1.

Southern State grabbed a six-point lead midway through the second half, but Tech's full-court press baffled the Muleriders the rest of the way. David Combs paced the winners with 26 points. Terry Hankton contributed 19 and Tommy Shaw 14. Al Flanigan had 19 points and Johnny White 18 for the Muleriders.

Gerald Lockett, the AIC's scoring leader, dumped in 27 points to lead AM&N to victory. The Golden Lions led 45-44 at the half.

Ouachita also had four men in double figures in the victory over College of the Ozarks. Ozarks has yet to win a game in AIC action.

UALR jumped off to an early lead over SCA, but the Trojans could not hold on against the inspired Bears. T. J. Johnson and Robert Stephens led SCA with 22 points each and Tom Butler had 16 for UALR.

Hopes Finish Will Be on a Ski Slope

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Danny Reeves, the player-coach of the Dallas Cowboys, began his year in a psychiatrists office.

"I hope to finish it on a snow-covered ski slope with a Super Bowl ring on my finger," he says.

Reeves told Dallas Coach Tom Landry of his aspirations to be a coach during the summer. Landry gave Reeves a chance. But first Reeves had to visit the team psychiatrist.

Reeves was the closest liaison between the players and the coaches after Dallas sank to its low point on Nov. 16 when St. Louis whipped the Cowboys 38-0.

"From playing in that game, I could see there was a lot of confusion on offense," Reeves says.

Landry began calling the plays after that and the Cowboys reeled off seven consecutive victories, gaining the Jan. 17 Super Bowl date with Baltimore.

Reeves says "Craig Morton (the quarterback) had a lot of pressure on him and Tom's move helped."

Reeves says there was a feeling of disgust on the team after the St. Louis disaster dropped the team to a 5-4 record.

NCAA Coaches Rip Report on Scholarships

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — The American Football Coaches Association has ripped a financial aid report by a special NCAA committee that would put all athletic scholarships on a need basis and limit the annual number of football and basketball grants.

Frank Broyles of Arkansas, president of the AFCA, says a coaches' committee headed by Eddie Crowder of Colorado has come up with recommendations of its own to combat the skyrocketing costs of college sports —football in particular—and will ask to meet with the NCAA.

The NCAA report, which is merely a suggestion and will not be voted on at today's business session windup of the annual convention, states that financial aid to athletes based solely on the need factor would result in scholarship savings of 35 to 45 per cent.

It recommends a national limit of 30 annual scholarships in football and six in basketball.

The coaches, who are annoyed anyway at the NCAA's 1.6 scholastic average requirement for athletic participation, are even divided among themselves.

For instance, Alex Agase of Northwestern, which belongs to the Big Ten Conference, thinks his league's current limit of 30 scholarships a year is a "workable figure with which to have good football."

On the other hand, Broyles, whose Southwest Conference permits 50 a year, said a drop to 30 would mean that "people like me would double their recruiting budget....

"I've got to drive 250 miles across my state to see anyone play football because our population nearby is so small, and then I can't guarantee that the 20 boys I want are the 20 I'm going to get. I can live with 40 a year, but give me the 20 boys I want and I won't want any more."

The most outspoken coach is Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State, who says he "will never coach again" under a need formula, which the Big Ten adopted for a while several years ago and then dropped.

"When we had it, I never felt so much like a hypocrite in all my life," Daugherty said. "In talking among our coaches, they all admitted they were cheating. I'm glad we gave up the program for an honest one."

Earle Edwards of North Carolina State suggests one-year scholarships, which he said, would make players "study harder and play football harder."

In Tuesday's developments, the NCAA:

—Awarded the 1974 basketball championships to Greensboro, N.C.

—Was urged, along with the coaches, to assume a leadership role in fighting the spiraling use of drugs on college campuses.

—Gave its highest honor, the annual Theodore Roosevelt award, to Dr. Christopher C. Kraft Jr., deputy director of the Manned Spacecraft Center here.

The NCAA convention winds up today with members voting on numerous proposals, the most significant of which are an amendment on responsibility for rules which could signal a possible return to one-platoon football and abolishment of the controversial 1.6 eligibility requirement.

SAN DIEGO (AP)—While Milwaukee's Lew Alcindor was clinching victory with a three-point play with 48 seconds left Tuesday night, little Lenny Wilkens sat on the West bench. But newsmen voted him the most valuable player of the 21st National Basketball Association East-West All-Star game.

The crowd of 14,378 and a national television audience watched Wilkens, 6-foot-1 and smaller than 27 other All-Stars, rally the West with driving layups in the second and fourth quarters in the 108-107 victory.

Wilkens led all scorers with 21 points, followed by Alcindor's 19 and 16 by Chicago's Bob Love, also of the West.

The East was paced by Atlanta's Lou Hudson and New York's Willis Reed, with 14 each.

"Lenny Wilkens never surprises me," said East Coach Red Holzman of the 33-year-old Seattle player-coach who made 8 of 11 field goal attempts and 5 of 5 free throws.

West Coach Larry Costello of Milwaukee said the little Wilkens came out with 3½ minutes remaining because "The East had two big guards and I wanted a better matchup."

"That's the coach's prerogative," said Wilkens. "I didn't want to come out but no player ever does in a tight situation."

Asked whether Coach Wilkens would have pulled out player Wilkens, he said, "I'll know better if I ever get to coach the All-Star team."

Holzman of New York and Costello were chosen because their teams are conference leaders.

Alcindor's fall-away field goal in the middle of the key, on which he was fouled, led to his free throw and a three-point play, giving the West a 108-105 lead. It came on a scrambling lob pass in front of the hoop by Los Angeles' Jerry West.

"We had Jerry West blocked off with three guys but he lobbed that high pass to Alcindor," said Holzman of the play that meant $500 each for the West players and $300 for the losers.

West, who has never been the game's MVP in a career that has included 10 previous all-star appearances, scored only five points but his nine assists accounted for almost one third of passes which led to scores by his team.

The East started off slowly, allowing the West to grab a quick 8-1 lead in the first period and a 66-60 lead in the third.

Despite the 7-foot-2 Alcindor, San Diego's 6-9½ Elvin Hayes and 7-1 Wilt Chamberlain from Los Angeles, the West was outrebounded 58-53. Alcindor was the game's leader with 14.

Marquette Knocks Off Notre Dame

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Very rarely do we lose to a team the second time around."

That's how Al McGuire, Marquette coach, summed up the 71-66 victory his nationally second-ranked Warriors scored over ninth-ranked Notre Dame in college basketball Tuesday night.

It was the 24th in a row for the unbeaten Warriors who haven't lost since their one-point defeat by Notre Dame last season in overtime.

The Warriors reeled off 12 straight after that setback, winning the NIT championship to climax a 26-3 season. They have won their first 12 this season and hope to extend their winning streak against New Mexico State Saturday.

In other games involving teams in the Associated Press Top Twenty eighth-ranked Kansas whacked Georgia Tech 84-71 and 11th-ranked Indiana humbled Minnesota 99-73.

Michigan State edged Iowa 84-81, Illinois shaded Wisconsin 84-82, Purdue beat Northwestern 82-74, New Mexico State routed Doane 91-73, Boston College nipped Connecticut 71-69, Providence squeaked past Brown 78-76, Syracuse tumbled American U. 103-82 and Richmond ended a 10-game losing streak by beating The Citadel 67-64.

Texas Tech whipped Arkansas 98-68, Oklahoma City defeated Texas Christian 76-69 in overtime and North Texas downed Southern Mississippi 96-84 in other games.

Down by 17 points, Notre Dame staged a second half rally before 10,746 at Milwaukee to climb within five points at 65-60 with about one minute to go.

The Warriors sewed it up in the last 56 seconds on four free throws by Dean Meminger and a layup by 6-foot-11 Jim Chones.

Meminger scored 19 points to 20 for Chones. Austin Carr paced the Irish with 22.

Bud Stallworth with 27 and Pierre Russell with 22 combined for 49 points to lead Kansas over Georgia Tech at Atlanta. Rich Yunkus scored 24 points for the Yellow Jackets who had a four-game winning streak snapped.

George McGinnis, Indiana's highly touted sophomore, paced the Hoosiers over Minnesota with 31 points. Michigan State survived a second half Iowa rally led by the Hawkeyes' Fred Brown with 30 points. Rudy Benjamin topped the Spartans with 21.

Rick Howat converted eight straight free throws for Illinois' last eight points to keep the Illini ahead of Wisconsin. Purdue also was good from the foul line, getting nine of its last 11 points on free throws, in downing Northwestern.

Jimmy O'Brien's two free throws in the last four seconds gave Boston College its victory over Connecticut. Ernie DiGregorio sank two free throws with five seconds left to account for Providence's squeaker over Brown.

Willie Chatmon threw in 41 points to lead Baylor over Midwestern 101-68. Gregg Lowery led Texas Tech over Arkansas with 34 points. Greg Kohl also tallied 34 to pace Syracuse over American U.

While unbeaten Marquette was making it 24 straight, the winless Virginia Military Keydets lost their 11th in a row. Gardner Webb beat them 95-72.

Says Owners Browbeat the Players

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Quarterback Joe Kapp says pro football club owners "all try to browbeat you."

"You've got to be tough with the club owners to get anything," said Kapp, talking to newsmen after appearing Tuesday before a federal grand jury investigating the National Football League.

The Boston Patriots' passer had nothing to say, however, about his testimony before the grand jury.

"I don't think I should make comment on what was said in there," said Kapp. He said he was not afraid of reprisal by Patriots' owner Billy Sullivan but conceded it would be highly imprudent to talk since he still makes his living as a player.

"We talked about my career, that's all I can say," Kapp said. The 32-year-old quarterback played out his option in 1969 as he led the Minnesota Vikings to the NFL title and won the league's most valuable player award.

Kapp became a free agent after the Vikings refused to meet his contract demands for the 1970 season and signed with the Patriots on Oct. 2.

Kapp's lawyers had threatened legal action against the NFL on grounds Kapp was blackballee.

Ron Kramer, former tight end with the Green Bay Packers and the Detroit Lions also testified.

Kramer, 35, now vice-president of a steel warehouse firm in Detroit, said the jury "didn't seem to know an awful lot about the NFL operations."

He said he was not asked about individual players or alleged blacklisting in the league, but asked "general questions about the rules and regulations of the NFL.

Buffalo May Move Bills to Seattle

BUFFALO (AP) — Owner Ralph C. Wilson Jr. of the Buffalo Bills says he wants some definite answers to stadium questions before he decides to move the National Football League team to Seattle.

Wilson, a millionaire Detroit businessman, met in Seattle Tuesday with King County (Wash.) Executive John Spellman and other local officials to discuss the "very serious" possibility of moving the club to the West Coast city.

Wilson told reporters he wanted a firm answer within 60 to 90 days as to whether Erie County, of which Buffalo is a part, would build a new stadium—preferably an open - air, 80,000 - seat facility — for the Bills.

He set the same deadline for the Seattle officials to work out a lease agreement for interim use of the University of Washington's 58,000-seat stadium and its expansion to 65,000 to 75,000 seats.

The owners of the 26 NFL teams begin their annual winter meeting in Palm Beach, Fla. March 25, midway through Wilson's deadline period. At least 20 of them must approve any move by the franchise.

The Bills have played their home games in War Memorial Stadium, a 46,000 - seat arena, since their inception in 1960.

Wilson noted that Erie County legislators first began consideration of a $50-million domed stadium in 1967 and they "are no further along than they were two years ago or four years ago. . ."

Disputes over location, management and rising costs have caused the delay.

Buffalo Mayor Frank A. Sedita termed Wilson's threatened pullout "incredible."

"We spent large sums of money renovating the stadium," he said. "The Buffalo-area fans have been loyal to Ralph Wilson and the Bills and the city administration has cooperated fully."

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and State Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges of nearby Niagara Falls pledged to help Buffalo keep the Bills. They did not say what aid the state might provide.

Louisiana Loses Game, Not 1st Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southwestern Louisiana's perfect record went by the boards but the Bulldogs still vaulted into first place while former front-runner Kentucky State toppled to third behind LSU-New Orleans in The Associated Press college division basketball poll released today.

The Bulldogs, last week's runner-up, collected five of the 16 first-place votes by the nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters and piled up 282 points despite last Friday night's loss to Baylor which dropped their record to 12-1. Earlier last week they ripped Texas-El Paso 84-69 and crushed McNeese 92-68.

LSU-New Orleans, 13-0, rode decisive victories over Texas Wesleyan and Trinity from third to the No. 2 spot in the balloting with 266 points, including three first-place votes.

Kentucky State's only game last week was a 63-59 upset loss to Georgia Southern which dropped the Thorobreds' record to 6-1 and their total points in the voting to 258, including a pair of first-place bids.

Holding on to fourth and fifth were Stephen F. Austin, with one first-place vote, and Tennessee State, with two, while Kentucky Wesleyan edged up one notch to sixth, dropping Ashland back one space.

Louisiana Tech, with a first-place vote, retained the No. 8 spot and Fairmont, which had been tied with Eau Claire for ninth a week ago, took over sole possession of that position with the aid of a pair of first-place ballots. Eau Claire is 10th.

Filling out the top 20 are Puget Sound, up from 16th, Oral Roberts, up from No. 15; Howard Payne, down one space from 12th; Indiana State, also down one rung; Cheyney State, tumbling from 11th to 15th; Central Ohio State, up three spaces; Central Washington, retaining No. 17; Philadelphia Textile, down four slots to 18th; and a pair of newcomers, Moorhead, Minn., and Eastern New Mexico. Falling out of the select circle were Illinois Wesleyan, formerly No. 18, and UNC-Asheville and Elon, which had been tied for 19th with Central Ohio State.

Here are the Top 20 college division basketball teams and records through last Saturday with total points on a 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-etc. basis :first-place votes in parentheses):

Curtis Takes Cool Approach to Super Bowl

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI (AP) — Mike Curtis, hotblood of Baltimore's hard-hitting defensive unit, is taking a cool approach to the Colts' Super Bowl showdown against the Dallas Cowboys.

But the fire that's been burning inside the rugged middle linebacker for two long years doubtless will surface in full intentisy at kickoff time Sunday.

"I'll try to hold off emotionally until the game itself and then let it all out," Curtis said today as the Colts continued tuning up for pro football's world championship game.

"I'm sure my feelings will run high as the game gets closer, but I'll try not to show it on the outside."

Two years ago, Curtis was an all-pro outside linebacker on the heavily-favored Baltimore team that bowed to the New York Jets 16-7 in Super Bowl III. Now he's the man in the middle as the Colts go about the business of settling accounts.

"We've come back down here to win it," he said. "There's no carnival atmosphere this time."

The Colts took the Jets lightly in 1969, trained for the game accordingly—and paid a dear price.

"I can't speak for anybody else," Curtis said, "but I'm sure that subconsiously I wasn't up for that game. We let our breath out after we beat Cleveland for the NFL championship. This time, we're still holding our breath."

Cowboys Coach Tom Landry has branded Baltimore's defense as "tremendously aggressive—probably the most aggressive we've faced."

"I don't know about that," said Curtis, one of the game's most aggressive individuals. "Minnesota's defense is awfully aggressive, too. I think the biggest reason for our success has been execution—particularly in the last three games."

The Colts beat the Jets 35-20 in their final regular season game, then blanked Cincinnati 17-0 and trimmed Oakland 27-17 in the playoffs to earn their Super Bowl berth. In Dallas, they face the NFL's top rushing offense.

Curtis defines aggressiveness as "being around the ball and hitting people."

Ironically, the former Duke fullback had to harness his penchant for hitting when he made the switch from outside to middle linebacker in mid-season a year ago.

"He was so anxious to hit people that it took time for him to adjust to dropping back properly for pass coverage," said Colts Coach Don McCafferty.

"I want to be the best middle linebacker in the league," said Curtis, who was generally overlooked by the all-pro selectors at a position dominated by Dick Butkus, Willie Lanier and Tommy Nobis in recent years. "And I want everybody to realize I'm the best."

"That's right, he hasn't gotten the recognition he deserves," said McCafferty. "Neither have some of our other players. But recognition means nothing right now. The only thing that matters here is winning."

Mel Renfro Is a Scared Cowboy

MIAMI (AP) — Dallas cornerback Mel Renfro is one scared Cowboy for Sunday's Super Bowl.

It's his way of preparing.

"If you fear an opponent," said the seven-year pro, "you'll never underestimate him."

Causes of Renfro's anxiety this week are the quick feet and sure hands of Baltimore receivers Eddie Hinton and Roy Jefferson.

"These are outstanding pass catchers," said Renfro, who excelled as an offensive halfback at Oregon. "They have great moves, top speed and keep the pressure on any defensive backfield."

Renfro, balding at age 29, measures his opponents mentally before any game. He studies films of their actions and plots a personal plan for defending.

Renfro undergoes a quiet preparation as kickoff approaches. He's not a yelier, a stomper or an overmuscled cheerleader.

"Some fellows go around the lockerroom slapping one another on the back and trying to pump everyone up," he said. "I let them slap me and enjoy their encouragement. But I'm pretty quiet about it myself."

Hinton, a second year speedstar from Oklahoma University, caught 47 passes in the regular season to lead the Baltimore brigade. Jefferson was right behind with 44.

Nicklaus to Make Crosby Tournament

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) —Jack Nicklaus makes his season debut this week as one of the favorites in Bing Crosby's 30th national pro-am golf tournament.

Nicklaus, closing in on his 30th birthday, heads an extremely strong field of 168 pros in the $135,000 event starting Thursday over three blustery, seaside, links-type courses on the windswept Monterey Peninsula.

As usual, the weather is one of the biggest factors and topics of conversation in this tournament that has become synonymous with wind, rain and cold.

Those were the conditions Monday, and a heavy rain drenched the courses Monday night. But the players, including a large number of celebrities who will play for three days under the Crosby's unusual format, encountered almost ideal conditions in a practice round Tuesday—no wind, sunny and mild.

But, warned the weatherman, don't count on it continuing. A major storm is forecast for the weekend, with heavy rain and high winds.

Nicklaus, as usual, made the Crosby his first tournament of the year. He skipped last week's Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open and has been idle for more than a month.

But the big guy, who won the British Open, the Picadilly World match play and the Byron Nelson last year, is one of the top candidates for the $27,000 first prize.

Opposing him is a line-up that includes all but one of the record 16 players who won $100,000 or more last season. That one is South African Gary Player, who doesn't start his American swing until the tour gets to Florida.

Among Nicklaus' biggest challengers are Masters Champion Billy Casper, a playoff loser to Bob Lunn last week, U.S. Open champ Tony Jacklin, PGA titleholder Dave Stockton, 1970 leading money winner Lee Trevino, and, of course, Arnold Palmer.

The final two rounds Saturday and Sunday will be telecast nationally by NBC-TV.

Baseball Goes After College Players

NEW YORK (AP) — A host of mid-year high school and college graduates, who've delayed turning professional until completing their schooling were up for grabs today in baseball's annual winter draft of free agents.

Baseball has no rule restricting the drafting of an athlete before he graduates but many players hold off signing until they've completed their schooling. That means that many of the prospects selected today will be players picked before who've returned to the pool of eligibles because they did not sign contracts.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

One of the most heroic acts of World War II occurred Feb 3, 1943, when the U.S. transport Dorchester was torpedoed. The World Almanac notes that four chaplains gave their lifebelts to soldiers aboard the ship linked their arms and prayed as they went down with the vessel. The chaplains were of the Catholic, Jewish and Protestant faiths.

Information About Social Security

By KEN HARGIS

If you have any questions regarding social security, I invite your letters. Just send them to Ken Hargis, Social Security Administration, P.O. Box 1319, Texarkana, Texas 75501.

QUESTION: My employer is not reporting my earnings to social security. What should I do about it?

ANSWER: Call or visit your local social security office. Take any documents you may have which show the amount of your earnings during the period you believe he did not report.

QUESTION: I do not have a birth or baptismal certificate, but I do have a school record made when I was ten years old. Will this be enough to establish my age when I retire?

ANSWER: In most cases where there is no birth or baptismal record available, an old record is excellent and normally sufficient to establish a date of birth. Contact your local security office to insure the record will be sufficient.

QUESTION: I have heard that I should check my social record every three years. Is this correct?

ANSWER: Yes. By checking your record every three years, you insure that you have received proper credit for your earnings during that period of time.

QUESTION: How can I arrange for a social security representative to speak to our club?

ANSWER: Call or write your local social security office. They will be glad to arrange a program for you and, of course, the service is free.

QUESTION: I am 56 years old and unable to work because of a heart condition. My doctor says I will not be able to work again. I am a widow and have no income. Could I receive social security benefits?

ANSWER: If you have worked under social security at least five out of the ten years just before you became disabled, you may qualify for disability benefits on your own record. If you became disabled within seven years from the date your husband died, or from the date you last received benefits on his record, you may qualify for disabled widow's benefits.

Back in 1968 when Helen Sobel Smith was about to play in her last tournament she announced to her teammates that she liked to play limit raises. When asked what she wanted to do about forcing raises her reply was "We'll work them out when we come to them."

What Helen meant was that when you have support for your partner and what looks like a sure game you can get there easily in any number of ways and still keep the slam zone clear.

Today's hand shows how Helen handled the first one of these. Her two-club response was forcing. When her partner rebid two hearts Helen continued the force with her three-diamond call. This was perfectly safe, because no matter how high her partner might take her in clubs or diamonds she could still go back to spades.

Oswald Jacoby, who was her partner, didn't know where Helen was heading but he made his normal rebid of three no-trump. At this point Helen showed her spade support.

Jacoby had a very sound opening bid. He also knew that Helen was showing slam interest. It was obvious that she had intended to get in spades all the time and could have bid the spade game immediately but took several detours. Helen never bid to help her opponents. Clearly she wanted to invite a slam.

Jacoby decided to bid five clubs and leave it up to Helen who proceeded to bid the slam without further ado. There was nothing to the play after both opponents followed to the first trump lead since there was only one heart loser.

Alternating Goals Pays Dividends

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Rangers' policy of alternating their goalies continues to pay dividends in the East Division race of the National Hockey League.

General Manager-Coach Emile Francis has employed the system of using veteran Ed Giacomin in the nets for one game and rookie Gilles Villemure in the next. As a result, both were named to the East Division All-Star team and the tandem lead in the Vezina Trophy race at the season's halfway mark for allowing the least goals in the league.

Tuesday night it was Villemure's turn in the cage as Giacomin rested and it was another victorious result as the Rangers turned back the Vancouver Canucks 4-2 in British Columbia.

In the only other game played, the St. Louis Blues proved rude hosts by humbling the California Seals 8-2.

Protect Yourself When Taking Care of the Ill

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Please tell all people who take care of anyone sick to wear rubber gloves. I took care of a woman who had syphilis as you would a baby, barehanded, and I contracted it that way.

Dear Reader—You have a point. Everyone who takes care of someone who is sick should at least be sure the person has seen a doctor. If the patient has something contagious, the doctor usually will take steps to protect the people immediately concerned.

You can get syphilis from another person in a variety of ways. This is possible if the syphilis organism is in a little water or fluid long enough to be in contact with the lips. Thus urinking glasses and utensils can theoretically result in transmitting syphilis even though this is certainly the least common way of getting the disease. The organism, however, cannot survive more than a few hours outside the human body. Any intimate contact can cause the disease.

I don't think you should limit your concern to syphilis. A number of the contagious diseases require precautions in handling the patient. Rubber gloves are not the only answer. In general, if you just follow the rule to take care of only people who are under a doctor's supervision, you will do the right thing with little or no danger to yourself.

* * *

Dear Dr. Lamb—My husband is 36 and the doctor says his anxiety is very high and his blood pressure is unstable. He gave him two different kinds of pills and told him he would have to take them the rest of his life and not to drink. He doesn't take his pills and he drinks a lot. What danger is he headed for?

Dear Reader—There is very little a doctor can do for his patient who does not or will not follow his advice. Medicine that is not taken might as well not be prescribed. I don't know what the pills are that your husband is taking but it is a good bet that one is a tranquilizer. Some of these medicines do not mix well with alcohol. The combined action of phenobarbital or similar drugs with alcohol has caused more than one famous person to go into coma or die.

Sometimes drugs that are safe by themselves are very dangerous when taken together. If the doctor doesn't know about the patient's alcohol habit he can unwittingly give the patient something that is not good for him.

Alcohol is a drug and should be treated with respect.

I suspect your husband has an alcohol problem. About one out of 18 adults do. The anxiety and the alcohol may go hand in hand. He probably needs professional help. The place to start is with your doctor.

* * *

Dear Dr. Lamb—What harm, if any, would result from a child sleeping with a dog in his bed? I don't mean a small lap dog but a large bird dog.

Dear Reader—Probably none. It is possible for a child to pick up dirt from the dog from wherever the dog has been. But that is true of anyone playing with any dog anyplace any time.

Abortion Issue Is Before High Court

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court took up today the District of Columbia law prohibiting abortions unless they are "necessary for the preservation of the mother's health."

In the first abortion case argued before the high court, the two-hour hearing centered on whether the law is clear enough for physicians to know when they legally may end a pregnancy.

Stacked behind on the docket are challenges to abortion laws in Minnesota, Texas, Georgia and Louisiana. The cases reflect a nationwide drive against laws restricting abortions.

The court's ruling in the District of Columbia case, expected by June, may have only limited impact, however. The issue of whether women have a constitutional right to end a pregnancy is not directly involved in the case. Secondly, the court directed the lawyers to debate the procedural question whether the appeal should have been put to the U.S. Court of Appeals here rather than appealed directly to the justices.

The key figure is Milan Vuitch, a Yugoslav-born physician who was arrested in May 1968 for violating the District's turn-of-the-century abortion statute, his 12th Washington area arrest on abortion charges since 1964.

When the case reached U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell, the son of a noted child psychologist, the indictment was dismissed and the law declared unconstitutional.

Since the word "health" was not defined, Gesell reasoned, physicians in Washington were not adequately informed by the law as to what they were permitted to do and what was forbidden. The government appealed.

Texas Tech, Texas Share SWC Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas Tech has taken its place beside Texas in sharing the Southwest Conference basketball lead with one victory each and Arkansas the victim in both cases.

Tech played rugged defense and used a 34-point performance by Greg Lowery Tuesday night to bury the Razorbacks 98-68 before 8,150 fans in Lubbock. TCU, playing without its shooting and rebounding star Eugene Kennedy, fell to Oklahoma City 76-69 in overtime and Baylor thumped Midwestern 101-68 on a school record 41 point performance by Willie Chatmon.

"Our defense impressed me tonight and we had very good team rebounding," said Tech Coach Bob Bass after the victory over Arkansas, which gave Tech an 8-5 season slate. "Our bench really helped us. Mike Oakes came in and did a good job as did Davis Johnson and Steve Miller."

Oakes had been sidelined for a week and returned to action for the first time Tuesday night.

Lowry and Oakes led a first half surge that gave tech a 50-39 halftime lead.

Chatmon hit 16 field goals and was nine for nine at the free throw line in breaking the record of 40 points set in 1966 by Darrell Hardy against Texas.

Baylor had trouble getting started in the first half. Baylor hit only 38 per cent from the field to 62 per cent for Midwestern. But the visitors had 17 turnover in the first half and Baylor managed a 40-37 halftime lead.

The Bear's pressing game wilted Midwestern in the second half.

Six-foot-11 Herbert Johnson was the leading scorer for Midwestern with 23 points.

TCU led by three points with 37 seconds left on the clock against Oklahoma City but Norman Russell knotted it for OCU and forced the overtime. Russell hit four points and Jim Lackey had four more to lead OCU in the overtime period.

Utah Has to Fight Off Carolina

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Utah had to figh off a determined Carolina club to hold onto first place in the American Basketball Association's Western Division. In Denver, Earl Strom had a more personal battle on his hands.

Utah's Stars, getting 20 or more points from four players, turned back the Cougars 131-120 Monday night to widen their slim margin over second-place Indiana to one game.

In other ABA action Denver overtook Texas 120-112 in a game enlivened by a brief fight between referee Strom and a fan, and Pittsburgh blitzed the Floridians 122-106.

In the National Basketball Association, the West All-Stars rallied in the final minutes to defeat the East 108-107 in San Diego.

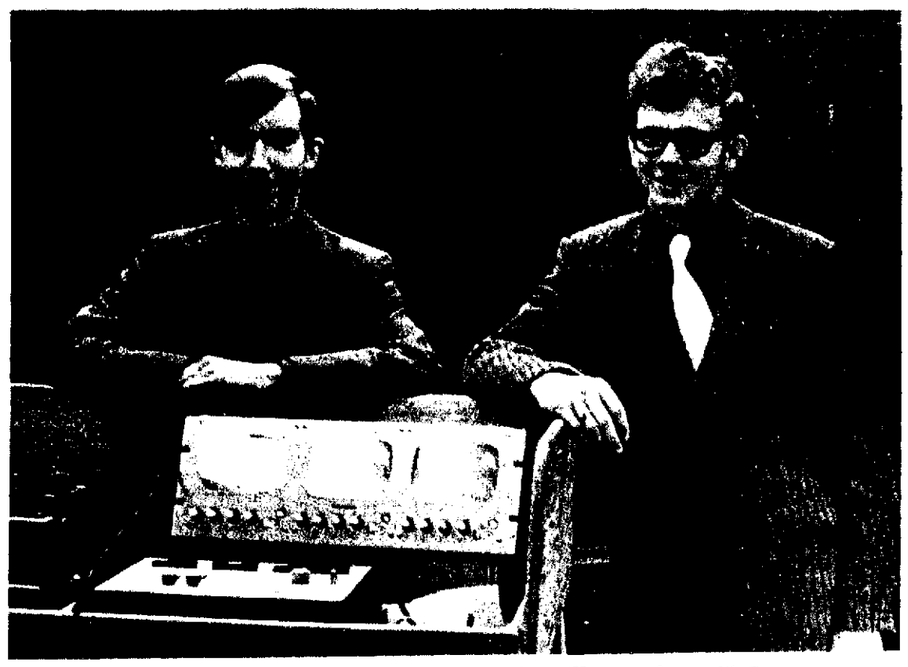

Utah exploded to a 31-8 lead in the first period and never allowed Carolina to get closer than seven points thereafter. Willie Wise with 25, Merv Jackson with 23, Zelmo Beaty with 22 and Glen Combs with 20 led the Stars. Frank Card of the Cougars won scoring honors with 36 points.

Larry Cannon and Byron Beck teamed for 34 points in the second half as Denver rallied from a 55-49 deficit to keep Texas alone in the Western cellar. Julies Keye had 28 points, Cannon had 26 and Beck 18 for the Rockets. Donnie Freeman had 28 for Texas.

With about seven minutes remaining in the game an unidentified fan began berating Strom, who approached the angry spectator. A brief shoving match ensued and several punches were thrown before Texas players and arena police separated the combatants.

Pittsburgh climbed five percentage points ahead of the last-place Floridians in the East on the strength of a balanced attack led by John Brisker with 31 points and 20 apiece by George Thompson and Stu Johnson. Larry Jones had 39 and Mack Calvin 26 for the losers.

JIM BROWNING AND BEN DOWNS

Ben Downs and Jim Browning, two very talented young men from Hope High School, presented the program at Tuesday's Kiwanis Club meeting.

They were introduced by Club President, Dale Franks, who commended them very highly for the contributions they are making to Hope High School.

The school system owns certain electronic equipment which includes two TV Cameras, a TV Monitor, a Control Console, and recording equipment which can record on tape and play back anything on which the cameras can be aimed and focused.

Ben and Jim, largely self taught in this field, are making a documentary film on Hope High School which will include every facet of day to day activities. Some of this film was shown to the Kiwanis members on a closed circuit TV Monitor. However, the documentary is not complete and the commentary is as yet unrecorded.

Perhaps the greatest value in this equipment is in filming actual class room or athletic situations, then playing them back, giving the teacher an opportunity to evaluate the learning processes of the pupil and the effectiveness of their teaching.

Downs and Browning went into some detail, explaining and demonstrating the equipment they had brought with them.

Guests at Tuesday's Kiwanis meeting were Doyle Huff of Hope, Bob Gunn of Tulsa, Oklahoma, Jim Allen of El Dorado, Dr. Bernes K. Selph, pastor of First Baptist Church of Benton, and Coy Zumwalt, formerly of Blevins now living in Wisconsin. Mr. Zumwalt is Lt. Governor of Division 10 of the Wisconsin District of Kiwanis.

Change in ad Valorem Tax Recommended

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Tax Division of the state Public Service Commission has recommended in its biennial report to the General Assembly that legislative changes be made in the ad valorem tax structure.

The recommendations would establish a state tax board of equalization, submit a constitutional amendment to exempt some property of elderly persons from taxation, closely examine the tax-exempt status of the property of churches and charitable organizations and submit a constitutional amendment to levy a state tax of 42 mills on all subject property to support the public school system.

The division also recommended:

— That the average ad valorem tax rate in the state be levied against the property, other than described real property, of utilities and carriers.

—That interstate motor carriers file proof of tax payment before receiving a permit from the Commerce Commission to operate in the state.

--Classifying community antenna television systems as public utilities, subject to regulation by the Public Service Commission and assessment by the Tax Division.

--Establishment of a joint interim committee of legislators to study tax problems.

Priest Called Mastermind of Bizarre Plot

By MARK BROWN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury has named the Rev. Philip Berrigan, the imprisoned antiwar priest, as mastermind of a bizarre plot to blow up heating ducts in government buildings and whisk away presidential adviser Henry Kissinger.

The indictment, returned Tuesday in Harrisburg, Pa., against Berrigan and five others, alleged that Kissinger, President Nixon's adviser on national security affairs, was to be kidnaped one day after the conspirators planned to set off explosives in heat tunnels connecting federal buildings in Washington.

The date of the explosions was set by the grand jury as Washington's Birthday.

The plot outlined in the indictment closely resembles a scenario sketched for a Senate subcommittee by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover last Nov. 27.

Berrigan and his brother Daniel, Hoover said, were part of a group called the "East Coast Conspiracy to Save Lives" that planned to blow up underground wires and ducts and kidnap "a highly placed government official."

"If successful, the plotters would demand an end to U.S. bombing operations in Southeast Asia and the release of all political prisoners as ransom," Hoover testified.

The indictment listed Daniel Berrigan, also a Catholic priest, as a co-conspirator but not as a defendant.

Friends and relatives of the Berrigans and others named in the indictment expressed shock and disbelief at the grand jury action.

Both Philip Berrigan, 47, and Daniel, 49, are in the Federal Correctional Institute at Danbury, Conn., where they are serving six- and three-year sentences, respectively, for destruction of draft records at Baltimore and Catonsville, Md., in 1967 and 1968.

The brothers, Philip, a member of the Roman Catholic Josephite order, and Daniel, a Jesuit, jumped bail after their convictions, popping up occasionally for an antiwar rally, lecture or sermon—much to the distress of the FBI. Philip was captured by FBI agents last April 21 and placed in the U.S. penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa. Daniel eluded capture until Aug. 11.

After Hoover's November testimony the brothers, by then transferred to the Danbury prison, challenged the FBI chief to withdraw his accusations or back them up with indictments, saying, "We have already been tried and condemned by Mr. Hoover's remarks."

Later a group of Roman Catholic clerics, including a Baltimore priest indicted Tuesday with Berrigan, identified themselves at a news conference in Washington as the "East Coast Conspiracy to Save Lives," and said the Berrigans were not members of their group and denied a kidnap plot ever existed.

Experimental Race Set at New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Hoist the Flag, a $37,000 purchase who earned $51,805 as a 2-year-old but missed another $145,025 because of disqualification, is the high weight in The Jockey Club's 1971 Experimental Handicap.

Hoist the Flag, owned by Mrs. Stephen C. Clark, was given 126 points, one more than Brookmeade's Limit To Reason in the Experimental which is a theoretical handicap that is a report card for the 2-year-old class of the previous year.

This year Tommy Trotter, The Jockey Club's handicapper, assigned weights to 168 3-year-olds in the Experimental, released Tuesday.

Other leading weight getters are October House Farm's Executioner and Paul Mellon's Run The Gantlet, 124 each.

Egypt Offers Three Point Peace Plan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Egypt is proposing a three-point Middle East peace plan calling for a Big Four peacekeeping force under the U.N. flag, an authoritative Cairo newspaper said today.

Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad had a telephone conversation Tuesday with Mohammed El Zayyat, Egypt's U.N. ambassador, and presumably asked him to pass the plan on to U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring.

Al Gomhouria, organ of the Arab Socialist Union, Egypt's only political party, said the plan also calls for the U.N. Security Council to meet before the current cease-fire expires Feb. 5 to draw up peace guidelines.

These would be based on the council's November 1967 resolution, which called for Israeli withdrawal from the territory it occupied in the 1967 war and Arab recognition of "secure boundaries" for Israel.

The third point in the plan, the newspaper said, is total evacuation by Israel of the territory it occupied.

Israel presented its peace proposals to Jarring last weekend when he visited Jerusalem, and he relayed them to the Egyptian and Jordanian U.N. ambassadors Monday and Tuesday after he returned to New York.

The Israeli proposals have not been made public, but sources in Jerusalem said they covered the Palestine refugee issue, future economic relationships between Israel and the Arabs, the cease-fire along the Suez Canal, and the possibility of demilitarized zones and prisoner of war exchanges. But before the Israelis discuss any of these issues, the sources said, they want a declaration from Egypt that it is willing to sign a peace treaty setting up permanent boundaries for Israel and ending 22 years of war.

The semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahram said that the Egyptian ambassador had asked Jarring to make the Israeli proposals public. This was taken in Cairo to mean that Egypt found nothing new in them.

Al Gomhouria said the Egyptian peace plan calls on the Big Four powers—the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France—to "shoulder their responsibility toward peace" by participating in the proposed peacekeeping force.

Educational Gap Between Suburbs, City

WASHINGTON (AP) — A wide educational gap has opened between the nation's central-city and suburban dwellers, the Census Bureau says.

Not only do more suburbanites complete high school, they achieve a higher level of education than the more deprived residents of the inner city, the report shows.

About half those over 24 years old living inside the 30 large cities surveyed failed to complete four years of high school, while 37 per cent of the more affluent suburban dwellers failed to get a high school diploma.

Although the study uses 1967 population figures, Census officials said, more up-to-date tabulations "show about the same kind of gap, with a general upgrading in both areas."

One reason for the difference, the report said, is "the fact that a smaller proportion of whites than of Negroes and persons of other races live in the central cities and that persons of Negro and other races have a lower educational attainment than whites."

The 1970 census showed that, for the first time in the nation's history, persons living in the suburbs outnumbered those residing in the core cities.

"About 82 per cent of the persons of Negro and other nonwhite races living in these metropolitan areas in 1967 lived in the central cities as compared with 43 per cent of the whites," the report said.

The survey disclosed that 10 per cent of all persons living in the 30 cities were college graduates compared with 14.4 per cent of those in the suburbs.

Only 5.3 per cent of nonwhites in the cities were college graduates, while 11.2 per cent of the whites had a college diploma.

Census officials said that in 1960, 8 per cent of all inner-city residents had finished college compared with 9.8 per cent of the suburbanites.

And, the report showed, once a central-city dweller gets a college education, he is more likely to move to suburbia.
